THE CONDUCTORS

MEN WHO "RUN" TRAINS MET IN SOCIAL AND BUSINESS SESSION.

Class of Twenty-Five Initiated by the O. R. C. at Engineers'

The members of Indianapolis Division, joyed a social and business session with banquet at the Denison last night, and finished by initiating a class of twenty-five new conductors into the order.

The social session was the first thing disposed of, and although there was considerable disappointment over the unavoidable absence of Grand Master E. E. Clark, of Peoria, Ill., the head of the O. R. C., the affair was considered to have been

One hundred and fifty members were present in Engineers' Hall at Massachusetts avenue and New York street when A. D. Krull opened the social session with a few happy remarks, in which he introduced regrets because Grand Master Clark had been called elsewhere at the last moment. In his place Professor McAvoy, of this city, although not a member, spoke briefly on the benefits the O. R. C. had of the purposes of the organization in its fraternal and benevolent work. There were several humorous numbers walk announced to be given by two of the members, J. McClintock and J. Cooney. It the occasion. Another humorous feature was an alleged minstrel act by one of the members who was dubbed "Boggstown Bill." because of the fact that he formerly had charge of a train on what is called the Boggstown branch of the Chicago division of the Big Four. Recitations by Professor McAvoy, interspersed with musical selections by the Odylyn quartet and Beiser's orchestra made up the rest of the pro-"His Last Run," by George Gilderman. Utopia Club Scores.

The uncertainty of bowling was fully demonstrated in the bowling of the Utopia Club on the Independent Turner alleys last Wednesday evening, the acknowledged weaker side taking three straight games from their opponents. Total scores were 3,150 to 3,024. The ladles averaged 110, the gentlemen 147. Highest ladies' score, 175; gentleman's, 172, made by Mrs. A. B. Robinson and Mr. Heller.

The leading scores were made as follows: Mrs. A. B. Robinson, 483; Mr. Buddenbaum, 480; Mr. Heller, 466; Mrs. J. A. Robinson, Mr. A. B. Robinson, 458; Dr. Teague, Mr. Finney, 441; Mr. J. A. Robinson, 417; Mr. Morris, 417; Mrs. Heller, 362; Mrs. Buddenbaum, 335; Mrs. Finney, 300.

Mrs. Trenary's Death.

The funeral of Mrs. Julia Trenary, who died Friday night at her home, No. 417 North Alabama street, will take place tomorrow afternoon. Mrs. Trenary leaves three children-Dr. D. F. Trenary, Walter O. Trenary and Ethel E. Trenary. Her husband, J. V. Trenary, was killed in a wreck on the old L. B. & W. Railroad, which happened near New Castle in 1886. Mrs. Trenary was identified with the Daughters of Rebekah, the Woman's Rellef Corps and the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Locomotive Engineers.
